

How to Play

1. Register your username at Geocaching.com. Basic membership is free.
2. Print out an "In the Andes of Perú" GeoTour Passport (this document).
3. Write down the secret word you find in each "Andes of Perú" geocache in this passport. The words are written on or in the cache containers. Also, sign the physical log that's in the cache, as well as logging each find on geocaching.com.
4. If you eat in restaurants or stay in hostels in the Yanamarca Valley, record the information in this Passport and have the proprietor initial it.
5. When you have 30 or more points, follow the instructions posted at GC4T042, the Interpretation Center in Tunan Marca. This will probably be to bring your Passport back to the Interpretation Center to claim your prize, but please check for the most up-to-date information.

Prizes & Rules

- You earn a point for every geocaches you find and log online. Record the "secret word" in each geocache on this score sheet.
- Only geocaches that are officially part of this GeoTour count for points. All caches in this GeoTour have the prefix "PeruGT" in their names on Geocaching.com.
- You can also earn points for eating in restaurants or staying in hostels in the districts of Acolla, Marco, Tunanmarca or Pomacancha (the Yanamarca Valley, where the geocaches are located).
- If you earn 30 points you are eligible to receive a collectible "In the Andes of Perú" Geocoin, trackable on Geocaching.com!
- The current method for claiming your geocoin is posted online. Please check the page for geocache GC4T042, the Interpretation Center in Tunan Marca, for the latest information.
- You must sign the physical cache log for each geocache you find to be eligible.
- Only fully completed passports are valid to receive prizes. Prizes are subject to change and are available while supplies last.

Terms & Conditions

Prizes are awarded in the order that they are received, while supplies last. Only one prize may be awarded per person, per year. The Environmental Roundtable of the Yanamarca Valley reserves the right to limit or revoke this offer at any time.

"In the Andes of Perú" GeoTour Passport

Let your GPS guide you on an adventure through The Yanamarca Valley, high in the Andes of Perú. Experience the rich history and natural resources of this land. See the environmental issues that exist in this rural community and the ways people here are working to improve things for the valley and for the earth we all share. Explore archeological sites and learn about the Xauxa culture that thrived here before the time of the Inca Empire. Visit colorful chapels, climb hills for lovely vistas, observe birds at our wetland, and see life as it is lived in rural Perú, far off the tourist trail.
